

THE SUMMERTOPIA TRAIL

THE ART THIEF

Every year in the Land of Summertopia, the Easter bunny runs an art competition. He asks all of the animals that live there to paint a design and the winning entry is made the official Easter egg the year after.

All of the artists lined up to hear the Easter bunny
announce the winner.

What?!

But the winner's painting was missing!

Not only that but they quickly discovered that all of the other paintings were missing. Someone had pinched them!

I think I can help! There's a familiar scent
here.

This doesn't make sense but I followed a flower scent from the case all the way to this door.

I think we better knock and see who's home!

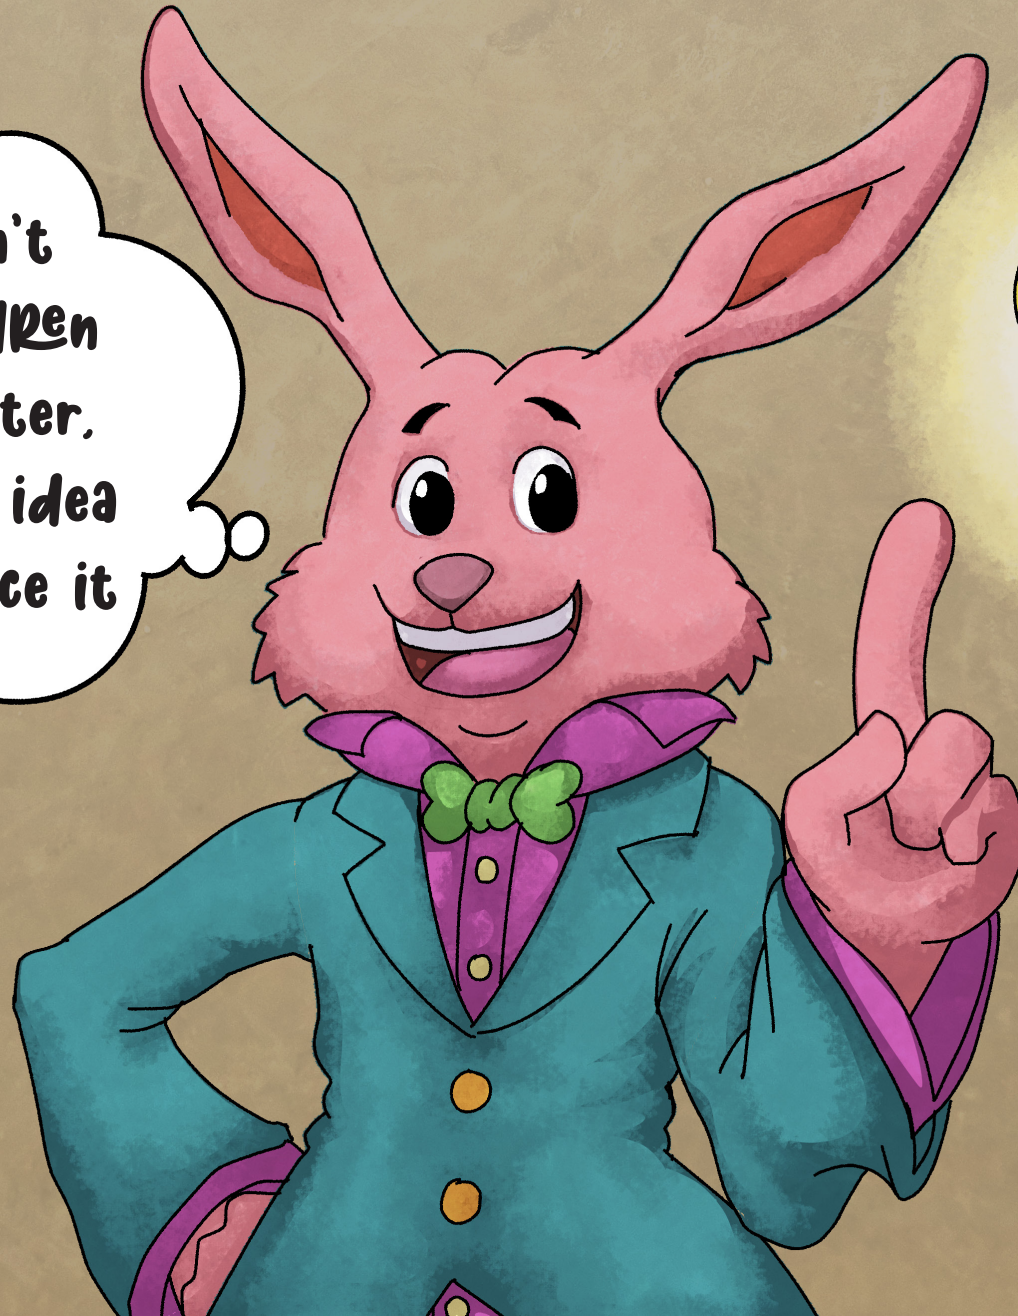

Well, let me
introduce everyone to our thief... the tooth
fairy!

Ok, so it was me but I'm not giving them back! It's not fair that you only have to deliver eggs for one day a year but I have to collect thousands of teeth every day! Not only that, but you're even giving them sweets!

The Easter bunny decided not to get angry with the tooth fairy and actually thought of a way to help.

I have it! I can't stop giving children chocolate on Easter, but I do have an idea that might balance it out

I pReSent to
you our winner!
Not forgetting the
special pReSent
that will now be includEd with each one!

Much
better!

Much better and don't forget to brush your teeth!

