TREASURE HUNT

STORY CUBE

You've found the characters, now it's time to bring them to life at home. This Story Cube is designed to help your child talk about books they've discovered recently.

1. Cut & Fold: Ask a grown-up to help you cut out the shape and fold along the lines to make your cube.

2. Roll the Dice: Take turns rolling the cube.

3. Start the Chat: Answer the question on the top face! Whether you're talking about the books from the trail or a story you have at home, there are no right or wrong answers—just great ideas.

CHARACTER CREATOR

Now you've met the characters in 3D, can you draw yourself an accessory to create a brand new character? This character could be based on the characters you met on the treasure hunt, a brand new one you've made up, or one from your favourite book or genre.

CHOOSE YOUR OWN ADVENTURE

TREASURE HUNT

You've tracked down the characters in the real world—now it's time to find out what happens next! We've created these Character Adventure Cards to help you use your "reading superpowers" at home. Each card features one of the heroes you met on the trail, along with a special "Book Starter" question.

There are no right or wrong answers here—just big ideas! Use these cards to spark a "Book Chat" over dinner, before bed, or while you're tucked up with your favourite book. Simply cut them out, pick a character, and let your imagination lead the way. Who knew a walk down the high street could lead to so many new worlds?

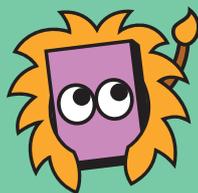

What would be in a book that would help you fly? What's the smallest, most magical thing you can see from up high?

If you could blast off in a rocket today, which planet would you visit first? What do you think the aliens there like to read?

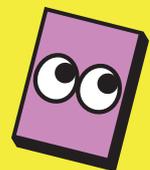

Have you read anything that matches your passion? If not what do you wish could be written?

If you could understand what animals were saying, which animal would you talk to? Favourite animal character or fact?

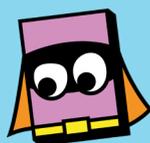

If you were the hero of an audiobook, which famous actor would narrate your adventures and how would they describe you?

If the characters from your favourite book could come and visit you for tea, what would you want to ask them?

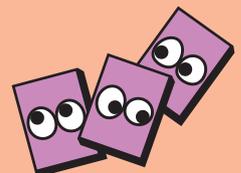

If you had a spell that made your toys tidy themselves up, what magic words would you use? What's your favourite magic spell from a story?

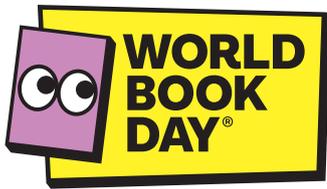

When you aren't out on an Outdoor Adventure, what is your favourite way to use your 'reading superpower' at home?

If you could magically change the colour of something, what would it be? What's your 'unicorn' book - one that could only be written for you?

If you could jump inside any book right now, would you rather explore a dark cave, a candy forest, or a city in the clouds?

BECOME THE GAME DESIGNER

Create Your Own World Book Day® Outdoor Adventure at Home

You've found our characters—now it's time to hide them! Use this kit to design a secret hunt for your friends, siblings, or parents. Will you hide them in the deepest depths of the sofa or the high peaks of the garden?

INSTRUCTIONS:

Prepare the Markers: Ask a grown-up to help you cut out the character tokens on this page.

Design Your Map: In the next page, draw a map of your "Game Zone" (your living room, bedroom, or garden). Mark 5 "X"s on the map to show where the characters are hiding.

Hide the Characters: Go to your hiding spots and tape your character tokens in place!

Set the Mission: Give your map to a player. Can they find all the characters in record time?

Hide me somewhere high up!

Hide me somewhere tiny!

Hide me somewhere wild!

Hide me somewhere magical!

THE "GAME DESIGNER" CHALLENGE:

For an extra challenge, write a Secret Letter on the back of each token. Your player must find all the letters to solve a mystery word you've made up!
